Session outline

Data collection and analysis (Agenda item 1)

Consultation Paper launch (Agenda item 2)

Consultation Paper outreach (Agenda item 3)

Agenda item 1 – Data collection and analysis

1.1 Advice

- a) Using a proforma makes it easier to code responses and use of a survey can generate responses from areas which might otherwise have a lower response rate (e.g. smaller accounting and audit organisations). Experience suggests the length of the survey and the most important questions should be considered
- b) Use community platforms with the same questions to broaden response routes
- c) Consider the distinction between users and preparers proposed for the drop down menu. Some respondents may be in more than one category
- d) Consider the revenue categories and whether they should be stratified further, particularly for larger entities, with support for the optional nature of this data

Agenda item 1 – Data collection and analysis

1.1 Advice

- e) Respondents may be unclear what is meant by jurisdiction and how this should be interpreted
- f) The list of proposed standard frameworks is long and complex. Simplifying it could be beneficial
- f) A general question about cost benefit and regulatory issues, might be helpful now or at the Exposure Draft stage.

Agenda item 2 – Consultation Paper launch

2.1 Advice

- a) The language barrier provides additional challenges in Latin America. Use the January awareness session to promote the Consultation Paper and its launch date.
- b) Consider how to access national standard setters using regional networks, and also if it is possible to access those national standard setters that are also sector regulators

Agenda item 3 – Consultation Paper outreach

3.1 Advice

- a) Consider recording webinars and create on-line forums to create energy across the weeks where thematic accounting issues are being considered
- b) Maximise the use of chat functions to encourage participation from those less comfortable speaking and use polls to get interaction
- c) Consider the use of 'off-line' events within countries to be able to dive deeper into the technical issues

Agenda item 3 – Consultation Paper outreach

3.2 Requests

- a) TAG members were requested to provide suggestions of invitees to the regional events
- b) Consider holding face to face outreach events on technical issues after the consultation period has closed to explore the issues raised in Consultation Paper responses.
